- Use the asset map or directory;
- Partner or collaborate with another service or program; and/or
- Suggest or provide options to the friend or family member that is struggling.

CASE STUDIES

CASE STUDY 1

Someone in your family has been struggling with drug addictions for many years and has been court ordered to go to a rehabilitation facility in Owen Sound. This family member has not talked to you about their drug addition in the past. As part of the court ordered rehabilitation process, your family member must also complete courses with a counselor. The counselor only visits Nawash once a week, and there is a wait list for their help. You are really worried about them. You found about their they are on the waitlist through this family member's partner who wants them follow through with this counselling. You want to do what you can to keep your family member on track to complete the courses with their counsellor.

Discussion Question 1: What are the best supports available in the community to assist this community member with their courses when they return from the rehabilitation facility?

Discussion Question 2: What aftercare supports are available or possible, after they are done with the courses and rehab?

CASE STUDY 2

A senior with arthritis who lives near to you has been struggling with accessibility in their home, and they require bathroom renovations to meet their physical needs. They have other family members that sometimes live with them but they are not able to finance or do the renovations themselves. The senior does not have access to internet and are unaware of who to contact for assistance.

Discussion Question 1: Which program or service should this senior reach out to in order to assist with funding and/or renovations to their bathroom?

Discussion Question 2: How can seniors in Nawash with limited access to supports be aware of the programs and services available to them?

CASE STUDY 3

You run into a 17year old teen (family is from Chippewas of Nawash but he lives off-reserve) you recognize at the gas station. You haven't seen him in a while and ask what he is up to and he shares that he wants to apply for college but isn't convinced that he can afford to go. He's thinking of postponing applying until he can sort out money. You ask him more questions and find out that he does not have the money to pay for the OCAS application fee. Since he does not live on-reserve, he is not eligible for funding through the Secondary Student Counsellor Program.

Discussion Question 1: How and where can this student apply for funding for the application before the deadline in February?
